CREATIVE WRITING CAMP
March 29 - April 1

In this fun creative writing camp, kids will learn to expand on their storytelling abilities as they polish a piece of writing and ready it for publication. Kids will share work with one another in a supportive environment and develop their writing skills as they increase their understanding of plot, character and setting. They will also study different forms of illustration and will be guided in choosing the media they wish to use to illustrate their books. Campers will "publish" their stories at the end of the session, have a "release party" where they will read their work to their peers and their other guests. At the end of the session, campers will take home a Scribble Press bound edition of their book and will have the opportunity to submit their completed piece for national writing competitions, if they so desire.
